

Check Your Focus

Thought for Today

Think of a camera lens. You want your photo not blurred, your object centered, your finger out of the way of the shutter. How do you accomplish that? First you have to stop. Be still. Maybe take a deep breath so the camera is steady. Be still this week, dear worker. Sit quietly before our Lord. Take a deep breath of his new mercies. Let your focus be on faith—your faith and the faith of your students.
